Les dragons de Komodo

On slide 2, look for information 1-12 in A-E.

Good news: many of the words used in A-E look like English words!

1	Komodo dragons are flesh eaters.
2	They are the biggest lizard alive.
3	They are the cleverest reptile.
4	They do not just attack animals.
5	Adults can be more than 2m long.
6	Their victims survive two days at most.
7	They don't all live in the wild.
8	They whistle when attacked.
9	They spend a lot of time eating.
10	Their saliva can kill.
11	They are a protected species.
12	They don't like the sun when too hot.

A. Le dragon de Komodo est une espèce animale protégée. On trouve seulement des dragons de Komodo en Indonésie centrale (et dans des zoos!).

B. C'est la plus grande espèce de lézard vivant. Les adultes mesurent entre 2 et 3 mètres et pèsent environ 70kg.

C. Le dragon de Komodo passe des heures à manger et à réguler sa température. Il adore le soleil du matin, mais pas le soleil intense de l'après-midi.

D. Sa vue et son odorat sont très développés, et il est le reptile le plus "intelligent" de la planète. Quand il est agressé, il siffle pour intimider son adversaire.

E. Le dragon de Komodo est carnivore et sa salive contient des bactéries très dangereuses. Ses victimes (animales ou humaines) résistent à l'infection mortelle 24 à 48 heures au maximum.

Coasts – Old Harry’s Rocks

You will have seen these in the news a lot recently due to people crowding on the beach there

Research how the coastal feature was formed and draw a diagram to show it.

Why is it called Old Harry? What happened to his wife?

On a blank map of the world you need to show the 3 largest rainforests, 3 largest deserts, the Arctic and the Antarctic. Give your map a title, use a key and label the areas clearly.

The Great Exhibition

Create a poster of the Great Exhibition. Your poster must include a picture and information on where it was held, what people could see, how popular it was and what people said about it.

RESEARCH STATION

Great Fire of London: Research the causes of the Great Fire of London and write a newspaper article about it...can you include the information on the impact it would have? (if you are a journalist at the time you wouldn't know then but you can research what the impact was and then imagine it in your report! Tricky writing!
